ECONOMIC CONTEXT

THE COUNTRY

Brazil is the largest country in South and Latin America. It is characterised by well-developed agricultural, manufacturing, mining and service sectors. A rapid growth of the middle class has strengthened Brazil's position as an economic powerhouse. Brazil's economy outweighs that of all other South American countries, it is expanding its presence in world markets. Campinas is the 2nd largest city in the state of Sao Paulo. The most important national and international high-tech, automotive and pharma industries are settled in a 100 km radius of Campinas airport.
